

Fabled Galaxy

Fabled Galaxy is a collaborative world-building platform connected to Discord that guides creators through designing their own planets, civilizations, technologies, magic systems, and mythologies. Think of it as a living galaxy of user-created fables—part creative writing tool, part social storytelling universe.

The goal is to make worldbuilding approachable, interactive, and communal, while still respecting creator ownership and creative boundaries.

✨ Core Concept

Fabled Galaxy invites users to:

- Create their own planet
- Define the people and cultures
- Describe technology and magic systems
- Shape myths, histories, and conflicts
- Share their world publicly in a Galaxy Gallery
- Optionally allow others to co-create within their universe

Each planet becomes a visible “node” in the shared galaxy map, representing a unique fable created by a real person.

🧭 User Flow

1. Landing Page (Interactive Premise)

The landing page introduces the concept of Fabled Galaxy through an interactive narrative that invites curiosity and creativity.

Key elements:

- A short story or animated introduction explaining the premise of building worlds
  - A clear call to action: “Create Your Fable”

2. Create Your Fable (World Creation Flow)

Clicking Create Your Fable takes users to a guided form experience where they build their world step-by-step.

Example guided prompts:

- 🌍 What does your planet look like?
- 👥 Who lives there?
- 🏛️ What kind of civilization exists?
- ⚙️ What technology level does this world have?
- ✨ Is magic real? How does it work?
- 📖 What myths or legends shape this world?

Users can also:

- Upload planet art / world visuals
- Name their planet

- Add a short description or lore summary

3. Galaxy Gallery (Public View)

The landing page includes a Galaxy Gallery at the bottom:

- Displays all submitted planets as a galaxy map
- Each planet appears as a visual node/star/planet
- On hover:
  - A card appears with:
    - Planet name
    - Creator name
    - Planet type
    - Short description / tags
- Clicking a planet opens its full world profile page

Ownership, Locking & Collaboration

Creators have control over how their worlds are used:

-  Planet Locking
  - Creators can lock their planet to prevent others from adding lore, characters, or expansions
-  Open Co-Creation
  - Creators can allow others to add content if co-creation is enabled
-  No Deletion of Others' Work
  - Users cannot delete or modify other people's submissions unless explicitly allowed

This ensures:

- Creative ownership is respected
- Collaboration is opt-in
- Worlds remain persistent and protected

Accounts & Subscription (Future Feature)

Free Users

- Can create and submit planets
- Can upload planet art
- Can view and explore the Galaxy Gallery
- Cannot edit submissions after creation

Subscription Users

- Login via Discord OAuth
- Can edit their own planets
- Can update planet lore, art, and metadata
- Can co-create on worlds that allow collaboration
- Can participate in shared storytelling threads

Discord Integration

Fabled Galaxy is designed to connect directly with Discord:

- Discord login for subscribers
- Discord identity used for:
  - Creator attribution
  - Community interaction
  - Co-creation permissions
- Future integration ideas:
  - Discord channels per planet
  - Lore drops via bot commands
  - Story prompts & events

Planned Features (Living Roadmap)

- Interactive galaxy map visualization
- Planet profile pages
- Lore sections (history, magic, tech, factions)
- Tagging system (fantasy, sci-fi, mythic, grimdark, cozy, etc.)
- Search & filter by planet type or theme
- Moderation tools
- Version history for collaborative worlds
- Export tools for writers & game designers

Tech Direction (To Be Expanded)

(This section will evolve as implementation details are added.)

- Frontend: TBD
- Backend: TBD
- Database: TBD
- Auth: Discord OAuth
- Hosting: TBD

Vision

Fabled Galaxy is meant to become a living, breathing galaxy of stories—a place where creators can plant a single idea and watch entire civilizations grow around it.

This README will expand as:

- Features are implemented
- Architecture is defined
- Community rules and moderation policies are established

Welcome to the

The Fabled Galaxy is the final galaxy at the end of time, where science and magic exist in opposite chaos. The tears are appearing in the sky, and faster than light travel, dead. The Fabled Galaxy is alone; the horrors of the void are all that is beyond it. Thousands of planets fill the galaxy with life, planets of rich culture, happy lives, and honor. This website is an open experiment in world-building. I am working to create an index of the Fabled Galaxy. Planets, unique creatures, oddities of the frayed universe.

Join the Community, create planets and lore!

The Fabled Galaxy was created in the spirit of collaboration and creativity. I have known so many people who create worlds in their heads, vibrant imaginary worlds of fantasy and wonder. If you're a creative who dreams of escaping from the horrors of the IRL and wants to become a creator of worlds, join us. We aim to make the Fabled Galaxy a fun place to explore and to bring this galaxy to life.

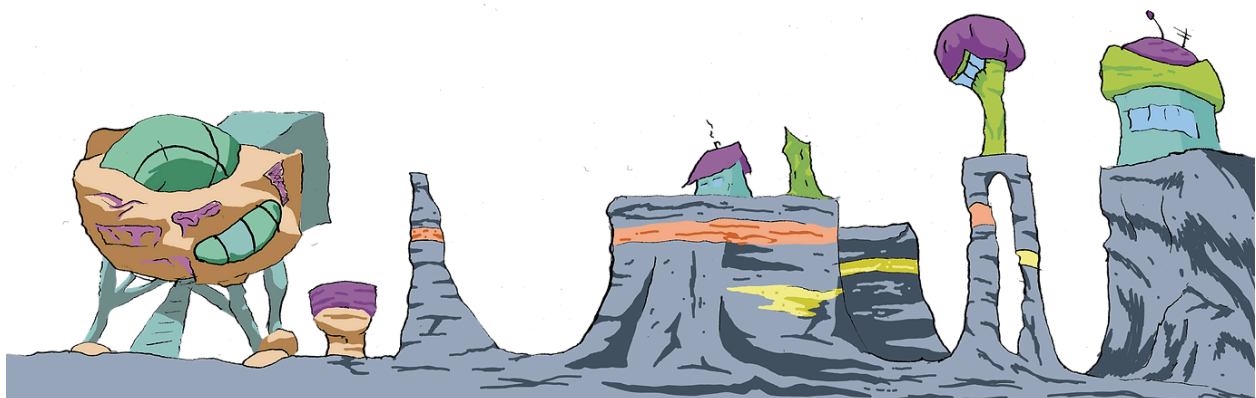

Maybe one day, the Fabled Galaxy will exist as a series of books, media, games, and tabletop RPGs. The future of the galaxy at the end of time is bright and exciting!

When joining, a creator will be assisted in outlining and creating a solar system of planets and people unique to them, your goals are your peoples goals. There are no "humans" in the Fabled Galaxy. The people of each planet will have a unique form and culture. Creators will have complete control over that planet's timeline, development, and relations between worlds. As we build the timeline with fun and interesting events, creators will be invited to participate in secret missions, events and crossovers.

Each solar system is controlled by its creator and cannot be invaded, destroyed, or otherwise affected, unless consent is given and collaboration is agreed upon. The fabled galaxy is a contested one, with villains to fight and foes to vanquish. This is more Pv.E than Pv.P. A creator is welcome to contribute as much or as little as they want, and at their leisure. This galaxy exists as a collaborative outline; any stories written about a planet belong to the creator. If submitted, those stories, short or long, will be gladly printed in the stories section of this website.

The Fabled Galaxy is an inclusive, hate-free community without inquisitors or gatekeepers. A goal of this Galaxy is to create a world where culture and life are preserved and celebrated. Where people are free to be themselves and accepted as they are. Egregious, uncivil, or hateful behavior will not be tolerated.

This is a space where creators can draft their ideas and contribute to the largest fantasy world ever created. Take the quiz to make a planet. Bonus points to those who join the discord.

What do the aliens of your world look like? How many eyes do they have? Wings? Horns? Do they have blue skin? Pink hair? Are they dragons? Go wild!

Please tell me a quick story about your people's utopia in the year 3051. Describe the citys they have built. The ports they have constructed (space or water). Are they at peace or still at war? What do the farmers grow? What vacation destinations are on this planet for visitors to see (great landmarks, incredible views, wonders of engineering, historic ruins)? Who are your chosen heroes?

Please tell me about 5 noteworthy, heroic, or exceptional people of your homeworld in the year 3051.

Please tell a quick story of what an ancient society on your planet looked like. Describe their technology level in some detail. Who were the leaders of this city/nation? How did this great society collapse? What remembrances do the people of your present have of that ancient nation?

Please name 5 further noteworthy civilizations of your planet. With each civilization, include at least one resource they honored with the greatest regard. What did they build with their limitless metals? What ruins of their society still stand today? What heroes rose up during a great conflict and pushed this nation beyond a great hurdle? Name and describe the Gods and Goddesses they honored.

Who are the vampires of your world? During which civilization did they become a vampire? How did they become a vampire?

How many people of your world are scattered to the stars by 3051? How many diplomats and students were living in Kepler City? Famous entertainers (musicians, artists, actors) who were out on tour? How many were traveling the stars on cruisers? How many military/science/trade vessels were lost amid some distant solar system?

Please describe the ecology of your world, Interesting megafauna, any noteworthy plants, large carnivorous creatures, etc?

Does your world have small towns? Tell me about a few. How old are they? What legends come from this town? Who are the families who live here? Are there ghosts? Strange cryptids that go bump in the night?

Note worthy immortals? Have any important heroes/villains of your planet's past achieved immortality? What happened to them? Where are they now?

Please understand that you are creating a galaxy of fables. Filled with rich cultures and happy people. This takes place at the end of time; The wars and ideas of old are burned and churned away. Quick hard stop on monotheism and disrespect to other cultures. (Until the secret counsel states otherwise)

I understand.
